

Higher Education Headlines

Jan. 17, 2014

College leaders leave White House summit inspired to act, Jan. 17

Critics say White House summit sidelined community colleges, Jan. 17

Tracking alternative credentials, Jan. 17

White House, college presidents target affordability, Jan. 16

High hopes for higher education funding, Jan. 16

Legislature could ask voters to define governor's budget restriction powers, Jan. 16

Reviews mixed for governor's higher education funding proposal, Jan. 15

The White House summit, Jan. 15

Springfield lawmaker seeks changes to appointments process, Jan. 15

Performance-based funding debate returns to capitol, Jan. 15

Pro and con, state school board hears about Common Core, Jan. 14

'FAFSA Frenzy' event to help area students with financial aid, Jan. 14

Missouri senator introduces funding formula bill for higher education, Jan. 10

Crowder College opens McDonald County location, Jan. 10

MU School of Medicine's pre-admissions program adds seven schools, Jan. 9

Best path to growth, Jan. 9

Hough: 'Futures orientation' key to success in college, Jan. 4

MSU academic scholarships offered, but not always accepted, Jan. 4